AWARDS TOTAL OVER ONE HUNDRED IN TWENTY-SEVENTH TRACK MEET

Five Were Presented to Winners of First Meet in 1904. This Year Twelve Cups Alone Go to Schools.

The 1930 awards for the Twenty-seventh Interscholastic Track Meet include 12 silver loving cups and over a hundred individual awards to the winners of the various events. Five cups will be given to the schools winning in the track meet. Three cups will be given to the school that wins the meet, two of them are temporary and will be awarded permanently in five years. Another cup is given for the winner of the relay race. The other cup goes to the team which has equalled or broken the most meet records in five years.

Back in 1904 when the meet had just started making history only five prizes were presented, but for the present meet 76 awards will be given to the track contest. While the prizes given in declamation, debate, essay, one-act plays, golf and tennis push the total individual awards nearly to the hundred mark.

In the fourth annual Little Theater tournament a silver loving cup will be awarded to the winning one-act play and also all expenses of this group will be paid by the Interscholastic committee. The cup is awarded temporarily each year and will become the permanent possession of the school that wins the tournament three times. Gallatin County high school won this contest last year and has two places on this cup. The Literature department of the Missoula Women's club has contributed $25 as a second prize. Flathead County placed second last year. Each of the four schools which compete in the final evening performance will receive a silk banner presented by the Mon-

R. Enyart Wins Joyce Contest

Judges Award First Place to "Strange Burden."

Judges for the Joyce Memorial contest have recently decided upon the winners of this year's contest. The judges include Mrs. C. H. Clapp, Miss Lucia B. Mirrielees, Miss Eleanor M. Sicksels, Mrs. J. P. Ritchey, Prof. Harry Turney-High, Prof. Robert Housman, and Prof. William Bateman.

A peculiar situation arose during the judging of the stories, due to the fact that of the first five places, four were placed first by some one judge, and the winning story received not one first place.

First place goes to the story, "Strange Burden," by Raymond Enyart.

The story receiving second place also received first from two of the judges. It is "Twenty-four Cents" by Cornelia Klitke.

Third place was awarded to a group of poems by Alicia O'Donnell called "Broken Crystals."

Fourth place goes to a one-act play, "Company for Mrs. Gilchrist," by Mrs. Margaret Angus.

"Apple Blossom Branch" by Melba Schwab, which placed fifth, received two first places.

Short Stories Rate O'Briens

Frontier Writers Place With Best of 1930.

Word has been received that two short stories from this year's issues of the Frontier will appear in O'Brien's "Best Short Stories for 1930." These are "The Way of a Transgressor" by Grace Stone Coates, and "Happiness Up the River," by Harry Hartwick. O'Brien has also placed "Tony and Marcella," by Mary Hesse Hartwick on his Roll of Honor.

All three of these authors are frequent contributors to the Frontier. Mrs. Coates lives in Martinsdale, Montana. Mr. Hartwick lives in Iowa City, and Mary Hartwick lives on a homestead near Holland Lake, Montana.

The selection of these stories by Mr. O'Brien, and the selection of other stories from the Frontier in the past, show the high rating placed on the Frontier in the literary world.

WELCOME.

One of the events we look forward to each spring is the throng of high school boys and girls from all over Montana who swarm the campus of the State University to participate in the Annual Interscholastic. We are glad to have a part, through the Interscholastic, in the development of the physical, social, and ethical ideals of young Montana. Education is for the development of the ability for living a complete life, and the contests of the Interscholastic are planned to help in the attainment of this goal. You can't all be winners but you can all be sportsmen. Good sportsmanship like living is always worth more than just winning—and certainly all good sportsmen are sincerely welcome.

CHARLES H. CLAPP, President.

MISSOULA HIGH WINS WESTERN SECTIONAL DEBATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Reed Point, Bainville, Fergus, Missoula to Compete for State Debate Title in High School Auditorium Today.

Missoula high school debate team won the Western sectional championship last night, eliminating Flathead county high school. The question debated (the same as the one for the finals) was: "Resolved, that the United States refrain from military intervention in order to protect foreign investments." Missoula upheld the affirmative.

Reed Point, Bainville, Fergus county and Missoula will compete for the state championship of the state this afternoon at the High School auditorium. The two debates will follow each other, but the judges will choose just one team out of the four as the winner. The conventional plan of debating will be used in the finals.

The Oregon or cross-examination plan of debate was used by the teams last night. Margaret Hamilton and Marion Dixon were the Kalspell debaters; Kenneth Spaulding and Robert Grantier composed Missoula's team.

Kenneth Spaulding was the main speaker for Missoula; he was cross-examined by Margaret Hamilton, who also gave the rebuttal for Kalspell. Robert Grantier cross-examined Marion Dixon, Kalspell's main speaker. Mr. Grantier also gave the rebuttal for Missoula. The decision was two to one in favor of the affirmative.

The Kalspell debate team eliminated Butte Central from the sectional meet yesterday afternoon. Missoula had previously won the district championship by defeating Phillipsburg and Hamilton.

Committee Changes Former Prom Regulation.

Men of the freshman class will not be excluded from Junior prom this year as formerly, it was decided at a meeting of the prom committees in Main hall auditorium last Monday. As long as sophomore men are allowed to attend, the members of the committees found no reason for excluding freshmen.

Primary election of prom queen will be held Wednesday, May 21. Any name may be written on this ballot. The names of the three women receiving the most votes will appear on the final ballot the following Friday. All members of the senior class, both men and women, may vote for prom queen.

Plans for Junior prom were practically completed at the meeting Monday. There will be no other meeting until next week. Programs are ordered and plans for decorations are finished.

The reception committee consisting of Dean T. C. Spaulding, Mrs. Mildred Stone, Bear Paws, Tannas and others, has been meeting all trains since Monday night, and will continue to do so until all contestants are in and accounted for.

Montana for Montana Students.

"MONTANA for Montana Students" is the slogan for this year's Track Meet. Fraternity and sorority houses and residence halls are co-operating with the University in carrying out this feature in entertaining the high school visitors. The University of Montana offers many attractions to students in the high schools throughout the state.

For those who have athletic aspirations there is Dornblaser field and the gymnasium for every form of athletic contest. For those with musical ability are the glee clubs, the symphony orchestra, Grizzly band and courses in the School of Music. For those with literary inclinations are the language and English departments and the School of Journalism. For those who have already made a choice of their life work are the professional schools of Business Administration, Forestry, Pharmacy, Journalism, Law, Music and Education.

Students interested in science, economics, English, fine arts, foreign languages, history, home economics, library economy, mathematics, military science, physical education, or psychology and philosophy can find courses in the University curriculum for them.

The University through its different departments and schools offers scholastic awards for the high school student. The honor roll and honorary organizations are incentives to the scholar.

These are not all of the inducements which the University offers the high school graduates but are phases in the life of the college man or woman. By coming to the University the high school student will enter new fields of work, make new associations and prepare himself for his life work in a few years. The University of Montana has been fostered for Montana students. They are the ones who should come here. They should feel that it is their University and home for several years in mental, physical and social training.—G. A.

Car Season.

AUTOMOBILES on our campus are like flies—they disappear in the winter, but with the spring they appear again, more numerous than ever.

In the fall, college students with automobiles are none too abundant. Car-less individuals, otherwise known as pedestrians, are greatly in the majority, and the boy with a Ford or the girl with a Lincoln are much in demand.

With the third or fourth snowstorm of winter, conditions change for the worse. Open cars and roadsters mysteriously hibernate. A few are found abandoned in back yards, seats covered with snow, radiators coated with ice, tires deflated and fenders rapidly rusting. Some are stowed away in garages or old barns. Most of them, however, either are deposited temporarily in junk-heaps and city dumps, to be resuscitated in the spring, or are taken back to the "folks at home" for the winter months.

And then comes spring, with its flowers and birds and leaves and green grass. And cars. Old cars, shiny new ones; bright roadsters, long sedans and rattly touring cars—all kinds. The machine that looked so irreparably rusty and worn-out last winter is running again, and what's more, it's carrying a dozen collegians and is making an average speed of 45 miles per hour on straight stretches. The bug that last September was painted in red streaks is back also—this time in yellow polka dots. Last fall's Dodges and Buicks and Packards reappear, freshly painted for the spring handicap, and glide up University avenue, around the oval, and back down the same street—going nowhere slowly.

But the astounding thing, to the observer, is the increased number of automobiles. Where formerly, four students out of 25 possessed cars, it is now like pyorrhea—four out of five have them. Cars used to be in demand; now owners almost have to resort to bribery or blackmail to get passengers for their machines. The student who is not as yet the possessor of some form of automobile is out of order, but not out of luck. He can always get a ride, for it's car season at Montana—V. H.

"Jock."

COACH J. W. Stewart has lost only three dual track meets in eighteen years, and his work at Montana University has won country-wide recognition. His winning track teams have been consistently made from green material, for few interscholastic stars are available, and he makes track an open sport at the University. Every man has a chance to make a place for himself, and those who show any sign of ability are given plenty of encouragement and leeway for development.

Many men have come here practically unknown in interscholastic track circles, and have gone out as cinder stars, some nationally known. Such was Arnold Gillette. Jimmy Morrow and "Scotty" Martin did not become interested in track until they had been at the University for some time, and then went out and made names for themselves in that department. This year Bob White, an inexperienced freshman, has been discovered to possess the potentialities of a track star.

Unlike football, a track man can prove his ability absolutely, going around to various meets and pitting himself side by side with other men. It is positive performance which stands out, lacking the confusion of the group on the gridiron.—M. B.

INTRA-MURAL AND MINOR SPORTS PROVIDE STUDENTS WITH ATHLETICS

Harry Adams, Freshman Coach, Is in Charge of Sports Throughout the University Year.

Intra-mural sports occupy one of the most important parts of the yearly University athletic program. Within the past few years the intra-mural sports program has been expanded so as to provide plenty of athletic activity for every member of the student body. The intra-mural contests are handled by Harry Adams, freshman coach, and include many kinds of sport. According to Adams any student can now participate in athletics either through the intra-mural program or else in the minor sports.

Intra-mural athletics begin when school opens and continues through the entire year until the close of the University. As the season goes, so goes the type of intra-mural activity. In the fall it's mostly competitive games of some sort in the physical education classes. Then during the winter quarter the intra-mural program calls into full swing with the many basketball contests, boxing, wrestling and swimming races. In the spring the students follow the outdoor sports such as golf, tennis and track.

During the winter quarter five different basketball tournaments were held in the University gymnasium under the intra-mural program. An inter-company tournament for the R. O. T. C. companies was held, inter-church, inter-college and inter-class tournaments were also conducted. A new tournament was started last year for the freshmen with the various floors of South hall competing. Another feature of the basketball routine is a free throw contest open to anybody in the University. A medal is awarded to the winner of this event.

At the end of the winter quarter or at the beginning of the spring term the annual "M" club tournament is held. This includes boxing matches in the various classes, wrestling contests, fencing and broad-swords. Individual medals are given to the winners of each division. Also a cup is awarded to the participant who has put up the best fight on the program.

In the spring the intra-mural program is the fullest. Four track meets are scheduled this quarter for University students. There will be held inter-class, novice, and inter-company meets and a track meet for the physical education track classes. For the baseball follows the intra-mural has provided two good leagues. There will be inter-class competition and inter-college competition, with banners awarded to the winners. The games are played during the month of May.

Golf within the last two years has proven especially popular with University students, especially since the purchase of the Garden City Community course by the alumni. This spring an additional nine holes was added to the course to make a full 18-hole course. An exceptionally large enrollment in the physical education golf classes this spring indicates the popularity of golf with college students. Three tournaments have been arranged by Harry Adams on the golf program. These include a championship tournament, a novice contest and a handicap tournament. The championship match has already been held, to determine the two University representatives for the state intercollegiate tournament. The other two tournaments will be held some time during this month.

Tennis is another big feature of the spring intra-mural activity. Two tournaments for tennis contestants were scheduled this spring. The singles matches have already been played and the inter-church doubles will be played in the near future. The singles championship was determined to enter into the inter-collegiate tourney last Saturday. The singles and doubles players will compete in the coast conference tournament at Eugene, Oregon.

Even barnyard golf enthusiasts have their inning on the intra-mural program with a horseshoe tournament. Pairings are made and games to 50 are played. A medal is then awarded to the winner of this contest.

For the first time intra-mural sports have been able to branch out and qualify contestants for a minor sports activity in competition with other colleges. The University representatives in swimming, wrestling, golf and tennis engaged this year for the first meeting with state schools on minor sports programs. The University swimming team including swimmers and divers met the State College in match in April. At this time the wrestlers of the two schools also tangled. The University swimming team will end its activity this year early in June when they will swim at the State amateurs contest in Helena.

The other phase of the minor sports competition is golf and tennis. Golf and tennis tournaments were inaugurated with the state inter-collegiate track meet this year. Entries from the State School of Mines, the State College and Intermountain Union college participated with the University in these minor sport tourneys.

The women's athletic program also calls for a large variety of sports among which are hiking, basketball, soccer, tennis and playground ball. Women are awarded a certain number of points for competition in each sport and upon the gathering of the required number are awarded a sweater by the Women's Athletic association.

A. A. U. W. ELECTIONS

The Missoula branch of the American Association of University Women held its last meeting for the year Saturday, to elect officers for next year. Miss Ruth Smith was chosen president, Mrs. W. P. Clark is vice president, Mrs. Philip Easton secretary, and Miss Gertrude Clark, treasurer. Mrs. Dennis Flahaven and Mrs. George M. Jennings will be among those representing the local organization at a sectional meeting at Portland, October 3 and 4.

Five hundred dollars was contributed by the Missoula branch to the national "million dollar" fellowship fund. This donation represents 50 per cent of the amount contributed by all the other associations in the state. The local student fund available for young women attending the State University was augmented by $300, which brings the total amount in this fund to more than $1,000.

Plans were outlined for the biennial conference of the Montana branches of the A. A. of U. W. to be held in Bozeman during October.

Plans for the meeting next year were discussed and standing committees were appointed, and reports were made of the year's activities.

Josephine McArthur of Portland is visiting at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

ed with "M" shades. Fraternities and sororities have been decorated appropriately, and are competing in a prize for the best and most fitting decorations. The huge M on Mt. Sentinel has been given a brand new white coat, the work being done yesterday by energetic freshmen. Best of all, the balmy weather of the last few days has brought a world of flowers into bloom, and Mother Nature has seen to it that Missoula is presenting a fine front to its visitors. Not to be outdone by University students, downtown business men have decorated their stores and Higgins avenue has been bedecked with flags and welcome signs. Practically all of the city's stores will close by 1 p. m. Friday, giving owners and clerks a chance to attend the finals in the athletic events at Dornblaser field.

Announcement has been made to the contestants by Dean Spaulding that meal coupons are good at these places only: Blue Parrot, Chimney Corner, Coffee Parlor, Diner Cafe, Falstaff Cafe, Florence Hotel Dining Room, Frank's Cafe, Grill Cafe, Jim's Cafe, Minute Lunch, Palace Hotel Cafe, Royal Cafe, Wedgewood's Cafe, Shapard Cafe, Yankee Cafe, Y. W. C. A. Cafeteria, Turf Cafe, Pony Cafe and Golden Gate Cafe.

George Varnell, associate sports editor of the Seattle Times, former student at Montana, and leading authority of today on amateur and inter-collegiate sports, will again be starter in the track and field events, a position he has held since 1916. Dr. C. H. Clapp, president of the University, will be referee, and competent officials with much experience have been assigned to handle the meet. Athletes will be permitted to warm up on Dornblaser field until noon Wednesday.

This year's interscholastic meet is the largest in history, a total of 121 schools being represented here. This breaks by five the record of 116 met in 1927.

Provide Health Service at "U"

Department Handles Illness Among Students.

The University health service is maintained for the benefit of all the students in the University, and is under the supervision of Mrs. A. F. LeClaire, the University nurse, at the present time. The students are given advice and cases of those who are reported ill are investigated. Mrs. LeClaire calls on any regularly practicing physician in Missoula when medical attention is necessary. When a student has a serious or prolonged illness the parents and guardians are promptly notified.

Thorough physical and medical examinations are given all freshmen by a physician at the time of their entrance at the University. Students are urged to be vaccinated for small-pox and typhoid fever before coming to the University. The vaccine and anti-toxin are furnished to any student free of charge.

A fee of $2.50 per quarter is charged each person to support the service. Students are reimbursed for bills incurred with the authorization of the University nurse for acute illness, for medical and surgical emergency attention not caused by any illness chronic or acute prior to entering the University, insofar as the fund derived from this fee is sufficient. Physicians' charges are pro-rated, the total paid in any one quarter not to exceed $100. Hospital charges are paid in full not to exceed $100 in any one quarter.

A smoker was held for the fathers of the members on Saturday evening at the house. Approximately 15 fathers attended. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served.

Frontier Runs Unique Section

Historical Department Contains Old Manuscripts.

The historical section of the Frontier, published at Montana in the interests of literature of the Northwest, is a unique feature among periodicals. This section, started in 1927, has been a feature of every issue since.

The purpose of this section is the printing of material relating to the history of the Northwest. These have not been polished essays, but the original journals and letters of persons who were active in the events described. In this manner the real life of the pioneer has been brought before the reader unaltered.

The first number of this section was by John R. Barrows, an early Montana resident, and describes the life of a Wisconsin youth in Montana in 1880.

The second number is an account by David Dinwiddie of a trip over the old Oregon Trail in 1833 from Indiana. This is an interesting narrative of that most interesting overland trail, and was edited by Margaret Booth, a graduate of the history department of Montana University.

The third number is by Norman B. Holter, an early Montana pioneer, and describes the beginnings of the lumber industry in Montana and other Northwestern states. This was edited by Margaret Parsons of the University Library.

Number five is the Journal of Peter Koch, who maintained an important trading post on the Musselshell during the years 1869 and 1870.

The sixth is by Richard Hickman, and is called "An Overland Journey to California in 1862," edited by Catherine White of the University Library.

Number seven is the Remembrances of John Bozeman, by that famous historical figure who built the Bozeman Trail. This was edited by Professor P. C. Phillips, of the history department of the University.

The eighth number is entitled "The Battle of the Big Hole," and is a collection of letters edited by Prof. Phillips.

The ninth is an account of the first wagon train on the Oregon Trail, and was edited by A. B. Hulbert.

Number ten is a description of pioneer ranching in Central Montana, and this collection of letters and journals was edited by Miss Lucia B. Mirrieles of the English department of the University.

The historical section of the last issue of the Frontier was an Indian girl's story of a trading expedition to the Southwest in 1841, edited by Winona Adams of the University Library.

Besides appearing in the Frontier, these accounts are printed separately as Historical Reprints on Sources of Northwest History, Professor Phillips being the editor.

prizes will be given. Three medals will be awarded in the boys' division and five in the girls'. A gold medal, given by Judge Asa L. Duncan, will be awarded to the winner of first place in the boys' declamation contest. Silver and bronze medals will be given to the winners of second and third place in this division. In the girls' declamation five prizes will be awarded, gold, silver and bronze medals for the first three places and blue and red ribbons for fourth and fifth places. Mary Esther Ridenour, Choteau, was winner of the girls' declamation gold medal last year and Donald Nash of Holy Rosary in Bozeman, the boys'.

The University will present a gold medal for the best essay written by a member of the graduating class of the accredited state high schools. The Intercollegiate committee will also pay expenses of the winning contestant to the meet.

In the journalism contest for the various classes of high school papers, five silver cups will be awarded. This includes four cups for the four divisions of the Intercollegiate editorial contest and a cup, the Fredell cup, for the best annual published by a Montana high school. The class A for schools with an enrollment of 500 or more will receive a cup donated by the Montana Press association. This cup was awarded to Billings high school last year. In Class B for schools with an enrollment from 200 to 500 the donor of the cup is also the Montana Press association. This was won last year by Fergus County high school. The cup for Class C that includes schools under 200 is awarded by Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalism fraternity. This cup was won by Butte Central at last year's contest. For the mimeographed papers in Class

D, Theta Sigma Phi will give a cup to the winner. Noxon won this last year. The Fredell cup for the annual is donated by the Buckbee-Mears company of St. Paul.

The State Board of Education upon the recommendation of the faculty of the State University, grants scholarships, which are honored at all of the institutions of the University of Montana, to the following contestants in the meet. They will be given to the winner of the essay contest, to the best individual debater, to the winner of first prize in the boys' declamation contest, and to the winner of the first prize in the girls' declamation contest.

The Missoula Cup, given by the Missoula Mercantile company, will be awarded permanently in 1934 to the team with the most points. Altogether over 70 individual awards will be presented at the high school auditorium Friday night to the winners of the track events and the golf and tennis tournaments.

NOTICE.

All students interested in swimming are asked to report to Carl Ross in the Men's Gym next Monday at 4 p. m. Classes will be held regularly at this hour Monday, Wednesday and Friday. There is a great deal of interest in swimming here this year and if a number of capable men turn out there is an excellent chance that a University team will be sent to the state amateur swimming meet in Helena early in June.

The alumni and active members of Sigma Chi fraternity will meet at a dinner at the Florence hotel Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Syd Stewart will act as toastmaster for the 75 couples who are expected to attend.

Walter Lewis of Butte was a guest at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon installation dance Saturday. Lewis is a former University student and Sigma Alpha Epsilon of this chapter.

GRIZZLY FOOTBALL SQUAD FINISHES PRACTICE UNTIL NEXT SEASON

Seven Men on This Year's Team Graduate; Many Men Are Available for Next Year's Team.

With the closing of spring football practice Monday comes a four-months vacation for the Grizzly squad. The two-month grind this spring brought out forty men, thirty of them being fresh and new material.

Prospects for a strong, fighting Grizzly football team are considered as bright if not brighter than they were at this time last year. Of last year's lettermen seven are lost through graduation including Capt. Eddie Chinske, quarter; Tom Davis, back; Marshall Murray, linebacker; Lloyd Callison, back; Gordon Rognlien, back; and Bob Tiernan, linebacker.

Lettermen who will be available again this fall are Jerry Ryan and Feet Lewis, centers; guards, George Schotte, Don Foss, Emil Perey, Frank Thraikill, and Clarence Muhlack; tackles, Carl Walker, Russ Peterson, Frank Spencer and Ray Lyon; ends, Reid Harmon and Ted Rule; backs, Tom Moore, K. Ekegren and Mellinger. Sophomores who will be available are: backs, Borden, Babcock, Burns, Boone, Daly, Bickel, Dobin and Lagerquist; center, Breen; tackles, Murray, McCarthy and Davidson; ends, Toby, Haney and Davis; guards, Snyder, Metcalf, Jaccard, Burton and Cook.

Last year's Grizzly team was considered the best Montana has ever produced by sports experts throughout the country. A fast-charging, hard-fighting team of determined Grizzlies went into every game with the sole intention of doing their best. October 5 the squad figured in one of the biggest football upsets in history when the small but stubborn Montana team outplayed the University of Washington Huskies to get a 6 to 6 draw.

Sports writers on the coast before the game had never conceded the smaller Grizzly team a chance to hold the powerful conference champions to a draw. Montana fought—never weakening until the final gun had sounded. Associated and United Press writers named Harmon, Peterson, Muhlack, Ryan, Murray, Walker, Perey, Lyons, Carpenter, Ekegren, Morrow, Burns and Cox as the most courageous band of warriors that showed on the coast that day.

The season last year consisted of eight major games:

Mount St. Charles 0, Montana 19.
University of Washington 6, Montana 6.
University of Idaho 19, Montana 0.
Intermountain Union 0, Montana 45.
Montana State 14, Montana 12.
California 53, Montana 18.
Washington State 13, Montana 0.
U. C. L. A. 14, Montana 0.

In these eight games, the Grizzlies scored 100 points against 119 for the opponents.

Another of the season's upsets came when the Bobcats ended two decades of Grizzly supremacy by winning a hard-fought game 14 to 12. Both teams played like veterans throughout the game.

Men who have been turning out for spring practice this quarter are Lewis, Corkoran, Robinson, Hannah, Brown, Hendrickson, Roberts, Dobbins, Brown, Bullard, Grove, Evenson, Nelson, Dahlberg, O'Brien, Vidro, Snyder, Breen, Praether, Mikelson, LeRoux, Ekegren, Crowley, Lewon, Gilboe, Shaw, Wal-linder, Andrews, Mandemock, Ruming, Benson, Davis, Peterson, Covert, McCarthy, Fox and Dean.

Coaches this fall will be: Major Frank Milburn, head coach; Harry Adams, assistant coach; and Eddie Chinske, line coach.

Major Milburn is starting his fifth year here coaching the Grizzly football and baseball squads. He came to Montana from Fort Benning, Georgia, where he was athletic director and coach of the all-infantry team there. Major Milburn, who is also in charge of R. O. T. C., is a graduate from West Point where he was awarded the Athletic Saber for being the best all-around athlete in the academy. He played on the army football and baseball teams in 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913. As head Grizzly coach, Major Milburn has made a good name for himself as well as for schools that his teams come in contact with.

Harry Adams and Eddie Chinske, both former Montana football stars, are valuable assistants to Major Milburn. Adams has been on the coaching staff for several years while Chinske will experience his first year as a line coach.

Tomorrow begins the second largest high school track and field meet in the country. George Varnell says it is second in number of entries and first in manner of handling.

Some records are due to fall if some of the boys stay up to form. One thing sure—it isn't safe to pick a winner in the Interscholastic.

Some of the smaller schools of the state are sending strong squads.

Marble, Belfry, ran the high hurdles in 16.6 in county meet at Bear Creek last week. The state record is 17 seconds.

It was a close meet. Red Lodge had 57½ points to win the meet with Bear Creek and Belfry tied for second with 57 each.

King and Agather of Kallispell and McKeen of Whitefish look good for points. Whitefish won the Northwestern district meet last week. Kallispell took second.

Missoula also has a good number of potential point winners. Custer has broken the state pole vault record consistently in practice.

Bell and Jones are good for points in the shot put. Saylor, Dishrow, Holmes and others give the Missoula school a fine squad.

Butte and Anaconda will have their usual strong outfits and Deer Lodge and Dillon have a couple of stars who expect to shine tomorrow and Friday.

Not much is known concerning schools in the eastern part of the state. Somebody is liable to pop up with a few surprises.

Bozeman and Livingston chalked up some good performances in the Southern district meet, notably in the high jump and hurdles.

From the Bitter Root there will be several good squads. Stevensville, Hamilton and several other schools always figure well in the scoring column.

UNIVERSITY AND STATE COLLEGE TO HOLD DEBATE

Three-Man Team Will Meet Aggies in Contest.

Montana will meet the State College in the annual extemporaneous debate on the general subject of America's foreign policy on June 2. All students, men and women, freshmen and upper-classmen, are eligible for the three-man team. After several of the best speakers have been chosen the field will be narrowed down to three contestants. Students who wish to enter the contest should turn in their names at 104 Library.

Last year the contest was held in Bozeman. Montana was represented by Russell Smith, Harold Fitzgerald, and Joseph Sherrick. Two hours before the contest a specific phase of the question chosen by an out-of-the-state professor will be opened and given to both teams. On the announcement of question each debater will have a free choice of sides. The speeches will be ten minutes in length with a six minute rebuttal. An individual award valued at $50 will be given to the best speaker. It was won by Russell Smith last year.

"The extemporaneous debate represents one of the most important speaking contests of the year and will close the debate season," said Hugh Lindsey, debate coach.

Saturday. It should be a walkaway for the Grizzlies.

Washington is leading in the conference baseball standing with four games won and one lost. Oregon, O. A. C. W. S. C. and Idaho follow in order.

The Oregon state interscholastic meet boasts of 48 schools with entries. Montana has 121.

PHARMACY CLUB STAGES OUTING

Pillrollers Feature Races at Milltown Picnic.

Members of the Pharmacy club, faculty and alumni held a picnic Sunday near the electric power dam at Milltown. They left the University by automobile at 10 o'clock and returned about 5 o'clock.

"Town Ball" was the principal game of the day, practically all students taking part. The players were divided into the "Wets" and the "Drys," the final count showing the "Drys" in the lead. John Suchy, Jr., and Charles Mollett, Jr. were the umpires.

Prizes were given by Dean Mollett to the winners of other contests. Jim Burham, president of the Pharmacy club, was awarded a sack of marbles as winner of the Fat Man's race. A fine specimen of "Catnip Mouse" was given to Mildred Woods, the winner of the ladies' ball-throwing contest. Archie Grover won a small saxophone in the jumping meet. Ella Brown, alumna, won a small suitcase full of kisses in the ladies' race. Archie Grover won a month's supply of shaving cream in the race for slim young men with the girl's figure; Carl Snyder won the "booby" prize, a supply of tooth powder. One of the main events of the afternoon was an exhibition of the goose-step by John Suchy, Jr., who was celebrating his second birthday. He was awarded a rubber ball.

Wyckoff of U. S. C. broke the world's record in the 100 last week, running it in 9.4. He declined to use starting blocks.

BEAR PAWS MEET CHORUS

Bearpaws and Tanans lost some sleep and met the 1 o'clock train yesterday morning to greet the dozen or so contestants—mostly girls—who were expected. As a bevy of young beauties descended from their Pullman the gallant Bear Paws took charge of the baggage and led the girls to the table to be registered. Whereupon it was discovered that the girls were contestants, not at the University but at the Wilma—they were a part of the Fanchon-Marco review. Result: amused actresses; abashed Bear Paws.

UNIVERSITY WINS OVER BOZEMAN DILLON, ST. CHARLES AND MINERS

Grizzlies Defeat Track Rivals
Saturday.

Grizzlies, whose inexperienced had aroused gloomy prophecies, today defeated one of the strong track teams Bozeman has produced some years. The University made a clean sweep of the field and was strong in the rest, and won 15 points ahead of the Bobcats in a close and interesting meet. Records were broken, and the final race was: University 65 5-6; State 55 5-6; Dillon Normal, 3; Mt. Charles, 2; School of Mines, 1-1-3. Critics agree that the Grizzlies track team deserves credit for its fine and strenuous, effective training. Inabilities had removed many star performers from the University squad. Those who have shown ability as a runner, was kept out because of a bad cold. Murray, who is very strong in a shot put, was out. He is recovering from an operation, but will be in about two more years, and will probably be available for track next year. His lack of veterans necessitated some making up in the squad Saturday. Several of the men were competing in certain events for the first time. Coach Adams of Bozeman is a much larger field than there is, from which to select his squad. Freshmen are available at the State college and there is a greater registration of men.

The meet Saturday commenced with a Bobcat spurt, but their early lead, acquired by first places in three first events and an upset sweep of the mile run, was eaten up by a steady Grizzly effort, aided by the tremendous effort of Allen Burke in the pole vault, while Grover in the half mile and mile Perry in the high hurdles.

Edna Perry, with 10½ points, was high point man of the meet, exhibiting great versatility with a strong save for first in the discus, a brisk race over the high hurdles for another first, and a tie for third in the high jump. Captain Renn of the Bobcats, was second high in the meet with 10 points, displaying ability in winning the century and furlong, taking them by a yard's margin.

Though Parmenter and Hill were not their barkiest best Saturday, they contributed substantially to the Grizzlies tally with a bunch of places, and their Aggie opponents to their utmost.

Coach Stewart sacrificed a relay victory to give some inexperienced men a chance to run. These men had worked hard all during the training season and deserved the opportunity, since the Grizzly victory was sewed up by way.

Probably the most spectacular race was the two mile run which developed into a thrilling exchange of the lead between Blakeslee of the Grizzlies and DeVries of the Bobcats in the final lap. The game Blakeslee pushed the much talked of Bozeman runner to the limit during the entire course of the race, being almost on his heels at the finish. Pincus George Grover, running his third race of the day, collapsed early in the two-mile and was taken inside the gymnasium and received physicians' aid. Grover has been stricken by some sort of set-back in his physical condition, and will have to undergo a thorough physical examination.

Tom Moore's driving finish to win the quarter, Holt's great spurt at the end of the mile for the Bobcat's and Nelson's final triumph from Ward in the high jump were other high lights of the meet.

Moore pulled ahead in the last five yards of the quarter after Samples had overcome Bruner's spurt in the stretch. Samples succeeded in killing off the Aggies in this race, despite his bad leg, which he has to guard constantly.

Semingsen took the first event of the weights, the shot put, and Lockwood took the javelin throw. Ruth came forward with five points from a winning leap in the broad jump.

Parmenter nosed out Hill for second in the 100-yard dash, and Hill took second from Parmenter in the 220-yard dash. Parmenter took second in the low hurdles, competing in the event for the first time.

In the half-mile run O'Neill set the initial pace for the University in the first lap, relinquishing the lead to Archie Grover who made a strong finish with a two-yard lead to win his specialty.

In the second lap of the mile, Smith and DeVries set out ahead of the Grovers, but fell back in the third. In the fourth and last round Holt passed Smith and DeVries to win first, tying up three places for the Aggies.

Grizzly Track Record Leads

Washington Forced to Split
Premiere Honors.

Montana, smallest member of the Coast conference, has for five years led all Northern conference schools in track except the University of Washington, and has twice forced the latter to split with her for premiere honors in the Seattle Relay Carnival. Grizzly stars have also hung up several records at the latter meet.

Besides beating such numerical and financial odds as are possessed by the great coast and inland empire institutions, Montana is less blessed climatically. Due to a normally late spring, the track season and the opportunities for training are much shorter. Other schools, besides having a longer season for outside training, are able to maintain large field houses for indoor practice. These comparisons reveal the determination and the great work of Grizzly cinder men in their short, but strenuous and effective spring performance in Missoula.

In former years, Montana boys have repeatedly supplied thrills for the spectators at the big annual Northwest relay meet in Seattle. In the days of Russell Sweet and Arnold Gillette, the high lights of Montana track history, the Grizzlies tied in first places with Washington. The Grizzlies won the 100-yard dash special, set a record of 1:30.3 in the 880-yard relay, and established a record of 6:30.4 in the medley relay.

Montana tied with Washington for first in the relay carnival of 1928. Again the Missoula speedsters took firsts in the century, the 880-yard relay and the medley relay. This time they lowered their own mark, established the year before, in the 880, setting a new one of 1:29.6. They also shaved their record in the medley from 6:30.8 to 6:25.6.

Washington had to split with Montana for second relay honors in 1927. This time Montana won the four-mile relay in 18:30. In the high hurdles Clarence Spaulding flashed over the last barrier with a five-yard lead on the field in the record time of 15.6.

INTERSCHOLASTIC IS SUCCESS FOR MORE THAN TWO DECADES

First Meet in 1904 Used Grotesque Equipment;
To House Athletes, Upper Floor of Gym Was Partitioned; Twenty Schools Came.

Three pairs of spikes possessed by Missoula high school constituted the whole of sprint footwear used in Montana's first interscholastic track and field meet here more than a quarter of a century ago, in 1904. The first high school athletes, most of them clad in sleeveless shirts and sawed-off trousers, sprinted either barefooted or stocking-footed down a crude and dusty track at the foot of Mount Sentinel. Cheers from long-skirted ladies and waves of hard-belled "skimmers" from a rickety stand urged them on. Nearby stood four isolated buildings which composed the University of Montana.

In the first meet there were 71 athletes from 18 different schools as well as 15 declaimers. Last year there was a total of 551 contestants from 107 accredited high schools. Added to the original track and field meet and declamatory contest, there are now the Little Theatre tournament, the golf tournament, the tennis tournament, debate, and a high school newspaper contest. This year the total entry list includes 17 high schools to be represented by 647 contestants.

The first track meet committee was composed of President O. J. Craig of the University; Coach H. B. Conliffe; Ruth E. Kellogg, women's athletic director; Professor Morton J. Elrod, and Professor J. M. Hamilton.

Many problems faced the first track meet committee, including that of taking care of the visitors. In the beginning a tent city was favored, but later it was decided to partition off the upper floor of the gymnasium into individual chambers. Now, contestants are housed in University dormitories, private homes and Missoula hotels. Since 1904 expenses for the meet have more than quadrupled.

Now contestants flock to Missoula from cities, from thriving farming towns, from isolated mining districts, from the oil fields, from every corner of the state. They come in automobiles and by train to a warm and orderly welcome, made possible by elaborate preparations. Every phase of the meet is dispatched with celerity, the result of the University's two decades and more of experience in putting on the Interscholastic.

Following is a quotation from a story by Professor Elrod in the Kaimin for April, 1904: "The engineering department has agreed to make a mould and cast a 1-pound shot for each accredited school, as these are probably lacking in most schools." Another quotation from the Missoulian for April 16, 1904, reveals the lack of standard track equipment in those days: "The hurdles are arranged so that they can be made higher or lower by the use of a hinge and are very convenient affairs."

Missoula won the 1904 meet. Powell county won the relay, while J. P. Pigott of Helena annexed the individual cup. Albert Nadeau of Butte was victorious in the declamatory contest. According to Ben Quesnel's History of the Interscholastic, "The field was surrounded by a circle of decorated top buggies and surreys." The field events were held on the grounds in front of Main hall. Some of the marks made in the events would seem ridiculously poor now.

The second meet was one of the hardest fought battles before or since. A piece of lemon choking a Butte half-miler, and the loss of a shoe by a Missoula 20-yard man were ironic features in the determination of the victor, according to a story in the Anaconda Standard of May 16, 1905. Butte gained 27 points, Missoula 25 and Anaconda 22.

The appearance of the University band and a large bulletin board for registering the results were added features of this meet. Despite predictions all but two of the marks set the previous year fell before the onslaught of the athletes.

The Montana Debating league was added to the activities of the third Interscholastic.

Other meets have not been without dramatic moments. In 1907 a Missoula athlete, who had been declared ineligible, turned up just as the events were ready to start. Accompanying him were a sheriff and a restraining order. The other schools would not allow him to enter and the outcome appeared dark until he voluntarily withdrew from the field. The discus was introduced to replace the two-mile run in this meet.

The fifth meet in 1908 saw a large crowd of 2,000. "Bewhiskered grandfathers and young women under wide spread merry widow hats gave full voiced expression to their sentiments along with rampant rooters in flannels," said a Daily Missoulian of May 8, 1908. The appearance of the scissor style in high jumping was first noted that year.

Butte won the sixth Interscholastic and then Gallatin started on her long rampage of victories which lasted for five consecutive years.

In the 1915 Interscholastic the point system was changed so that five men were placed in the scoring column instead of three and the javelin was substituted for the hammer throw, which had proved highly dangerous.

Missoula won the 1916 meet on a snow-covered field. There was no meet held in 1917 because of the war.

The next era marked the advent of the smaller schools in the meet and Stevensville took first honors in 1918. Then Butte took the championship cup for three straight years.

In 1922 Great Falls took her first cup after three years of placing second to the winners. Great Falls repeated in 1923 with a half-point advantage over Butte.

Butte easily won in 1924 and the results were broadcast over the University's new radio station, KUOM. The Mining city victory was repeated in 1925, while Missoula won in 1926, losing Butte out 36-32. Butte won from Granite county in 1927.

In 1928 Butte took a close victory over Missoula. Great Falls took her first meet in six years in 1929 when she brought a dark horse team to the meet.

The Big Ten in cumulative scoring in the meet does not altogether correspond with the Big Ten in other athletics in Montana. The high scoring schools in order are: Butte, 626½; Missoula, 497; Gallatin, 313; Great Falls, 306½; Anaconda, 243½; Flathead, 242½; Helena, 242; Stevensville, 204; Hamilton, 153½; Billings, 130½; Teton County, 130½.

The Winners.
1904—Missoula, 24 1-3; Butte, 18; Helena, 16.

U CINDER TRACK BEST IN SECTION

Acclaimed by Athletes as Best in Northwest.

Laid out on Dornblaser field is the most excellent stretch of cinders in the northern section of the Coast conference. This was the acclamation of scores of athletes and their coaches who came here from various points of the coast and northwest when Montana was host to the Pacific Coast conference meet June 1 and 2, 1928.

Steve Anderson, Olympic hurdler from the University of Washington, wrote to Coach J. W. Stewart from Amsterdam, where the Olympic team was in training, stating that the Montana track was one of the best he had seen in his wide experience as a track man.

The bleachers and track of the University are of comparatively recent construction. Work was started on them in the spring of 1926, and they were completed in time for the football season next fall. Construction of the present flawless quarter mile speedway was no small task. Part of Mount Sentinel had to be dug away, and the cut walled up with stone. The foundation of the track was laid carefully, the succeeding layers of rock, gravel and cinders being applied in such a manner that the bed easily withstands the extremes of Montana climate and the surface can be maintained under the severest usage.

Thorough upkeep of the track, due in no small part to Coach Stewart's efforts, is greatly responsible for its fame as the fastest loop in the northwest. An average of two hours a day of labor is spent in dragging, sprinkling and rolling the track during the season. Under this treatment the excellent condition of the track could be maintained though a meet were held on it every day, according to Mr. Stewart.

GRADUATES WITH HONORS.

Dorr Skeels, next year's Rhodes scholar, is graduating from the Mathematics department with honors, according to the word received today from the head of the Mathematics department.
